Thus, Black has to make the ugly capture bxa4 or allow us to take this pawn - neither of which is particularly attractive and obvious. The computer thinks Black is objectively fine in both cases, but it is not so obvious to human eyes. White's position is easier to play and I think we have decent chances in a practical game, as we will inevitably get the e5 pawn push. 1.e4 c6 2.d4 d5 3.f3 dxe4 4.fxe4 e5 5.Nf3 Bg4 6.c3

D00: 1 d4 d5: Unusual lines 'Inf 50/(397) Summerscale & Johnsen : 'RR: 'Inf 50/(397)'" This chapter will demonstrate play in the middlegames and endgames you can expect to see arise from our openings. It's fairly similar to the Model Games chapter, but here we will start commentary a ways into some of my games, so I can provide first-hand analysis of how a strong player thinks in these situations. The opening will be presented so you know how we got there. Then I'll give you a taste of how to press! Along with wriggling out of nasty positions, one of my talents is winning level endings. It's obviously very tough against experienced over-2000s and Masters, but I've had great success against mid-range players (1600-2000) . This chapter is the nucleus of this course - it's about more than just openings! 1.d4 Nf6 2.Nc3 d5 3.Bf4 g6 4.e3 Bg7 5.Nf3 c6 6.h3N

Blitz 10min+1sec B33: Sicilian: Pelikan and Sveshnikov Variations The Women's Grand Swiss is very strong and one of the most important tournaments in the chess calendar. I was the 3rd top seed by rating, and my expectations were quite high. But despite this, the tournament was not going well for me, as I had only 4 points out of 8 rounds, and I was somewhere in the middle in the standings. Nevertheless, I am happy that I managed to win the last three games and share 5–8 places. This game,

Blitz 3min C01: French: Exchange Variation C01: Défense française (variante d'échange) Normally a five minute blitz game isn't considered worthy of annotation in a chess book.

The exception is when one of the players is the world champion. Each generation produces a Nietzschean 'ubermensch', or metahuman, who plays with god-like abilities. In this game the ubermensch is playing little me! 1.e4 e6 2.c4 d5

D00: 1 d4 d5: Unusual lines I was facing one of Canada's top players in this game: the talented GM Razvan Preotu. I have no doubt that Preotu is a highly provocative and perhaps "greedy" manner that has not boded well for him.

A04: Unusual lines after 1 Nf3 and King's Indian Attack In this overview I will discuss lines where White aims for setups based on the English or the Réti. My main recommendation is to play for a quick ... f5-f4 and wait with ...e7-e5 against the English. There is nothing wrong with ... e7-e5, but then we often transpose to one of the main lines which White players who play the English might be quite familiar with. Against the setups with Nf3 and d2-d3 followed by e2-e4 I recommend a setup where Black plays ... f5 and ...e5. 1.Nf3 f5 2.d3 Nf6 3.e4 d6 4.exf5

C27: Vienna Game: 2...Nf6 3 Bc4 Nxe4 Myers: This is Game #61 published in a book called "A Selection of 200 Games of Chess, Played by Correspondence, with Notes and Critical Remarks by Geo. B. Fraser, Dundee." GBF includes this short preface: "The Games which follow are selected from various Correspondence Tournaments organized under my Conductorship, between the years 1887 and 1896. With few exceptions, none of them have hitherto appeared in print. A large majority will be found to exhibit a pleasing liveliness and animation somewhat unusual in Chess by correspondence." A fair number of these games (33) were played by GBF himself, so it is evident that he was both an avid correspondence player and an early organizer of correspondence chess events. (GBF was also an active OTB player, mainly in Scotland. For example, GBF finished a respectable second in the 1st Scottish Championship, played in Glasgow in 1884, just a half-point behind the winner.) It is not known whether the games are printed in any particular order, and no dates are provided for the games individually. I have somewhat arbitrarily assigned a date of 1890 to each game, for database purposes. 1.e4 e5 2.Bc4 Nf6 3.d3 Bc5 4.Nc3 d6 5.h3

Howell,David: 'Das ist eine Provokation und ein Zeichen für Gukeshs Kampfbereitschaft.' 2...d4 Howell,David: 'Ding, as he always did at his peak, takes up the challenge.' Howell,David: 'Ding nimmt die Herausforderung an, wie er es in seinen besten Zeiten immer getan hat.'

[The move orderDie Zugfolge 2...e6 3.g3 poses a dilemma for Black. While Ding is happy with a mainline Queen's Gambit Declined, he has often favoured a quick ...Bb4+ versus the Catalan. Hence stellt ein Dilemma für Schwarz dar. Ding wäre zwar mit einer Hauptvariante des Abgelehnten Damengambits zufrieden, hat aber gegen Katalanisch oft ein schnelles ... Lb4+ bevorzugt. Daher wäre Nf6 4.Bg2 Be7 5.0-0 0-0 6.d4 would be an awkward transposition

3.b4 Howell,David: 'I must admit feeling a sense of pride when seeing this move at World Championship level. Many fellow Grandmasters have been dismissive of this move in the past, with more than one telling me that this is highly dubious for White. Yet I have always been a firm believer in its potential to create imbalanced positions in which the opponent might feel uncomfortable. The move itself is indeed risky, but it undoubtedly asks unorthodox questions.' Howell,David: 'Ich muss zugeben, dass ich ein Gefühl des Stolzes verspüre, wenn ich diesen Zug auf Weltmeisterschaftsebene sehe. Viele Großmeisterkollegen haben sich in der Vergangenheit abfällig über diesen Zug geäußert, und mehr als einer hat mir gesagt, dass er für Weiß höchst zweifelhaft ist. Doch ich habe immer fest an sein Potenzial geglaubt, unausgewogene Stellungen zu schaffen, in denen sich der Gegner unwohl fühlen könnte. Der Zug selbst ist in der Tat riskant, aber er stellt zweifellos unorthodoxe Fragen.' 3...c5 Howell,David: 'One of the main recommendations in modern opening works. Blitz 3min A04: Unusual lines after 1 Nf3 and King's Indian Attack

In this overview I will discuss lines where White aims for setups based on the English or the Réti. My main recommendation is to play for a quick ... f5-f4 and wait with ...e7-e5 against the English. There is nothing wrong with ... e7-e5, but then we often transpose to one of the main lines which White players who play the English might be quite familiar with. Against the setups with Nf3 and d2-d3 followed by e2-e4 I recommend a setup where Black plays ... f5 and ...e5. 1.Nf3 f5 2.d3 Nf6 3.e4 d6 4.exf5
